ABOUT THIS HIKE (for more info, see “Events” at www.OC-Hiking.com)
This dirt trail takes you down into a woodsy, shady, wilderness full of oak, sycamore, and elderberry trees. The first couple of miles are very tranquil, peaceful, and calming along the Wood Canyon Trail (fire road) or parallel Wood Creek Trail (hikers only). An option is to head to Dripping Cave, a rock overhang once used by rustlers! Relax and take in the cave then on towards Mathis Canyon Trail. This section is an advanced trail 1.3 miles up with a 700 ft. gain; not a beginner’s trail. Once at the top of the ridge we have a panoramic view of Laguna Canyon (hwy 133), the ocean, and Aliso Viejo (Soka University) and may break/lunch at Top of the World at Alta Laguna Park. The West Ridge Trail leads down to Cholla Trail and back to the start. Hike Duration: This walk is approximately 8 miles. Plan on 2.5 to 3 hours minimum.
